Contents of Volume 53

No. 1

W.T. Peake and J.J. Rosowski (U.S.A.)
Impedance matching, optimum velocity, and ideal middle ears 1

B. Canlon and L. Brundin (Sweden)
Mechanically induced length changes of isolated outer hair cells are metabolically dependent 7

D.P. Phillips and S.A. Sark (Canada.)
Separate mechanisms control spike numbers and inter-spike intervals in transient responses of cat auditory cortex neurons 17

P.M. Backoff and B.M. Clopton (U.S.A.)
A spectrotemporal analysis of DCN single unit responses to wideband noise in guinea pig 28

S.M. Shapiro (U.S.A.)
Binaural effects in brainstem auditory evoked potentials of jaundiced Gunn rats 41

L. Schermuly, G. Topp and R. Klinke (F.R.G.)
A previously unknown hair cell epithelium in the pigeon cochlea: The papilla chaotica 49

R.B. Patuzzi and C.L. Bull (Australia)
Electrical responses from the chicken basilar papilla 57

J.F. Willott, K. Parham and K.P. Hunter (U.S.A.)
Comparison of the auditory sensitivity of neurons in the cochlear nucleus and inferior colliculus of young and aging C57BL/6J and CBA/J mice 78

K.K. Karlsson, M. Ulfendahl, S.M. Khanna and Å. Flock (Sweden, U.S.A.)
The effects of quinine on the cochlear mechanics in the isolated temporal bone preparation 95

G.M. Gerken, J.M. Solecki and F.A. Boettcher (U.S.A.)
Temporal integration of electrical stimulation of auditory nuclei in normal-hearing and hearing-impaired cat 101

S. Rydmarker and K.C. Horner (France)
Atrophy of outer hair cell stereocilia and hearing loss in hydropic cochleae 113

P.K. Plinkert, H.P. Zenner and E. Heilbronn (Sweden, F.R.G.)
A nicotinic acetylcholine receptor-like α-bungarotoxin-binding site on outer hair cells 123

E.M. Relkin and R.L. Smith (U.S.A.)
Forward masking of the compound action potential: Thresholds for the detection of the N_1 peak 131

E. Zwicker and G.B. Henning (F.R.G.)
On the effect of interaural phase differences on loudness 141

Short Communications

R. Rajan, D.R.F. Irvine and J.F. Cassell (Australia)
Normative N_1 audiogram data for the barbiturate-anaesthetised domestic cat 153

No. 2

C. Collinge and L. Schweitzer (U.S.A.)
Details of the central projections of the cochlear nerve in the hamster revealed by the fluorescent tracer DiI 159

Y. Raphael (U.S.A.)
Pure-tone overstimulation protects surviving avian hair cells from acoustic trauma 173

D.J. Franklin, B.L. Lonsbury-Martin, B.B. Stagner and G.K. Martin (U.S.A.)
Altered susceptibility of $2f_1 - f_2$ acoustic-distortion products to the effects of repeated noise exposure in rabbits 185

J.C. Meurice, J. Paquereau and A. Marillaud (France)
Same location of the source of P1 of BAEPs and N_1 of CAP in guinea pig 209

L.I. Hellstrom and R.A. Schmiedt (U.S.A.)
Rate/level functions of auditory-nerve fibers in young and quiet-aged gerbils 217

K.M. Khan, J.S. Hatfield and D.G. Drescher (U.S.A.)
Carbohydrates associated with the cell coat surrounding cells of the rainbow trout saccular macula as revealed by lectin probes 223

The effects of DFMO on polyamine metabolism in the inner ear 230

H. Pratt, M. Zaaroor, N. Bleich and A. Starr (Israel, U.S.A.)
Effects of myelin or cell body brainstem lesions on 3-channel Lissajous' trajectories of feline auditory brainstem evoked potentials 237

B.J. Dannhof and V. Bruns (F.R.G.)
The organ of Corti in the bat Hipposideros bicolor 253

M.L. Whitehead (U.K.)
Slow variations of the amplitude and frequency of spontaneous otoacoustic emissions 269

F.P. Fischer, J. Brix, I. Singer and C. Miltz (F.R.G.)
Contacts between hair cells in the avian cochlea 281

G.P. Richardson and I.J. Russell (U.K.)
Cochlear cultures as a model system for studying aminoglycoside induced ototoxicity 293
